AISD Volunteer Confidentiality
Agreement

As a volunteer of Austin ISD, you may hear statements and comments from teachers, parents, staff and students and view educational records about students while you are volunteering at the schools. This information is confidential and IS NOT to be discussed outside of the School District with anyone, including your spouse or any other family member. This agreement does not, however, prevent you from reporting a crime that you may witness and are required to report under state or federal law.

State and Federal laws place considerable responsibility on anyone who works with students not to divulge any kind of information about students. As a volunteer, you are able to see records and hear information about students. You cannot, and you must not discuss any of this information with anyone other than those professionally associated with your duties with the student and only on a "need to know basis".

By revealing confidential information about students, you betray the confidence that the students, parents, and the District place in you and quite possibly violate federal law,

All Austin ISD approved School Volunteers are expected to be professional and dependable in their volunteer activities. Each school will share expectations related to their specific volunteer activities. School volunteers must always adhere to the following district guidelines and associated policies when serving at a school:

School Rules — During the school day, school volunteers must report immediately to the main office at the campus where they have been approved to volunteer, sign in, and sign out before leaving campus. School volunteers shall comply with all school rules and familiarize themselves with policies that govern their conduct and what they can or cannot do while serving as a volunteer on a school campus or field trip, including the following:
